

7TH TORUNIAN CARBON SYMPOSIUM

1st Torunian Carbon Symposium was held at the Nicolaus Copernicus University in Toruń (Poland) from 20th to 21st September 1992.

The Carbon Group of the Institute of Physics, Nicolaus Copernicus University in collaboration with Polish Graphite Society, organized it.

The same organizers, organized next five Symposia with Prof. F. Rozpłoch as a group leader, in two years interval beginning from 1995.

The scope of the Symposium will cover structures of different forms of carbon, i.e. amorphous hydrogenated carbons, carbon structures containing higher ordered BSU, CVD (Chemical Vapour Deposition) diamond films, fullerites, nanotubes, graphite and GIC (Graphite Intercalation Compounds).

The organizers cordially invite you to participate in this Symposium and expect that most of participants will give their own scientific contribution.

Well-known foreign scientists will be guests of the Symposium.
